Strengths, Disposition and Tactics.

Information derived from formalized intelligence sources, both U.S. and GVN, local official and civilian reports, after action reports, patrol debriefings, ITP prisoner interrogation reports, and other sources indicate that the Viet Cong forces operating in the 9th Marines TAOB during this reporting period consisted of the following:

The total Viet Cong strengths (less local guerrilla forces) believed to have been operation in the 9th Marines TAOR during this reporting period included elements of two battalions (700 men), four separate companies (350 men) and several "special mission" units (100 men), for a total enemy strength of 1150 men.

ENCLOSURE (1)

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Of the above units, one battalion and several Viet Cong company/"special mission" units were reported to have moved into the 9th Marines TAOR to support the Viet Cong rice gathering operations. During the same period, an estimated total of three hundred fifty field workers were brought into this area as Viet Cong laborers to assist in the rice harvest; but this group was believed to be primarily levies and to constitute no noteworthy addition to Viet Cong military strength.

Additionally, local guerrilla forces, organized in irregular units up to company strength (60-120), were operating in various locations. In some hamlets the Viet Cong force consists of little more than a "cell" of four or five local sympathizers, while in other Viet Cong dominated hamlets, the local Viet Cong force is estimated to consist of a well integrated, directed unit of full company strength (120 men) and equipped with a fair assortment of automatic and crew-served weapons. An approximate total of six hundred local Viet Cong (guerrillas and political activists) were estimated to have been operating in the 9th Marines TAOR. This force provided the regular (Main Force) Viet Cong units with exceptional protective surveillance, provided information of USMC operations, strengths and disposition, constituted a ready source of replacements to the Viet Cong ranks, and provided secure areas which magnified the difficulties in locating and restricting Viet Cong movements.

(b) Characteristic of insurgent tactics, the Viet Cong operations were primarily the "hit and run" type, usually initiated during periods of restricted visibility, whereby, the Viet Cong tried to gain a momentary advantage in firepower, inflict maximum casualties, and withdraw from the scene of action as rapidly as possible. Following well established insurgency patterns, the Main Force, Viet Cong units did not consistently operate in one locality or from an established and defended local base area. Rather, they varied their area of operations with considerable frequency. This tactic generated reports from local inhabitants and local governmental sources of considerable more Viet Cong forces operating in the 9th Marines TAOR than is accepted as probable.

(c) Mining and sniping were the two predominate types of enemy actions against friendly forces during September. A total of thirty incidents of mining and booby-trapping by the Viet Cong were reported to have happened in the 9th Marines TAOR. The effectiveness of this type of operation is indicated by the number of casualties. Thirteen Marines were killed and forty-two sustained wounds as a result of mines and booby-traps during the period 1 September through 30 September. In addition, Viet Cong mines damaged or destroyed three tactical vehicles, two Ontos, and an amphibious tractor. Forty-two incidents of sniping were reported by units of the 9th Marines during this period.

(d) During September, the Viet Cong directed a campaign of subversion and terrorism against the people in general, and more particularly, against village and hamlet authorities. There were several reports of Viet Cong political teams, accompanied by armed Viet Cong terrorists, visiting hamlets and isolated communities, where they delivered propaganda addresses and distributed subversive literature. The attendance of the villagers at these meetings was assured by threats of violence and reprisals. On 19 September, a HOA THAI Village policeman was killed in a daylight incident by a Viet Cong assassination team in PHUONG BAC (1) Hamlet (AT 995707).

(2) Viet Cong Casualties.

(a) During September, the 9th Marines inflicted the following casualties on the Viet Cong in operations with-in the 9th Marines TAOR:

KIA (body count)	72
VC Captured	11
VC Captured (WIA)	1
VC Suspects Apprehended	244

It is accepted that the Viet Cong hold an almost fanatical compulsion to deny the bodies of their dead and wounded to their adversaries, so it is quite probable that the above figures reflect only a portion of the casualties actually sustained by the Viet Cong. Intelligence reports also indicate that the Viet Cong experienced a severe shortage of medicine and often medical supplies during this period which would tend to further increase the number of Viet Cong dead of wounds as the result of our operations.

(b) This reporting period also showed a material increase in the number of Viet Cong weapons captured. A total of eleven weapons were reported captured; the large majority of which were CHICOM MOSSIN-NAGANT Model 53, 7.62mm carbines. Of significance is that these carbines all exhibited identical arsenal markings and date of manufacture (1960). In addition, the components of each weapon, ie:

stock, receiver, trigger assembly, bolt, etc, were all stamped with the same serial number, indicating that substitution of worn parts had, as yet, not been necessary. The weapons captured showed little field usage or wear. It is likely that these weapons were but recently introduced into this locality. A noticeable increase in reports of Viet Cong armed with shoulder weapons during this period also bears out the conclusion that an influx of well-armed regular Viet Cong forces into this TAOR has occurred.

(3) Sources of Intelligence.

(a) The primary source of information of military intelligence value was the units in contact with the Viet Cong. Contact reports, patrol reports, after-action reports, and observations by front-line troops constituted the major, and most reliable, source of information.

(b) In addition, periodic and special reports provided by MACV, I Corps, III MAF G-2, 3d MARDIV G-2, QUANG NAM Special Sector and other regular intelligence sources, were received and utilized. Local GVN authorities and officials, especially the HOA VANG District Chief and District Police Chief, also contributed much worthwhile information.

(c) Also, several local sources were utilized and developed by this Regiment. A most productive source of information proved to be the Chief of HOA HAI Village. His frequent, almost daily reports, constituted a major source of information of the Viet Cong strengths, disposition, and plans in the eastern portion of the Regimental TAOR. Of particular note was the exceptionally high percentage of his reports which proved to be substantially correct. The major portion of credit for the development of this intelligence source goes to the 1st Battalion S-2 who cultivated the Village Chief's cooperation and maintained an effective liaison with him.

(d) After an initial spotty performance during the beginning of this reporting period, ITT prisoner interrogation reports developed into a timely and usable source of information of Viet Cong procedures, locations, personalities and morale, and the impact and influence of Viet Cong and friendly operations on the local civilian population. ITT translation facilities, which provided rapid translation of captured enemy documents, also provided a worthwhile service.

(5) Electronic Surveillance Devices. During September, the Regiment employed the following electronic surveillance devices as indicated:

(a) (See the 9th Marines Intelligence Summary #54 dated 1 September 1965) The 1st Battalion S-2 reported that the HOW HAI Village Chief indicated to him that the villagers told him thirty or more Viet Cong were killed during the search and destroy operation conducted 29 August by the 1st Battalion in the Marble Mountain area. The village chief stated that the operation resulted in pro-government sentiments among the villagers and evident confidence in the ability of USMC forces to provide future security in the area. Also, the village chief requested that the battalion provide security for the villagers when they harvested the rice beginning on 10 September 1965, so as to deny the rice to the Viet Cong. The village chief related that the practice in the past was for the villagers to place a portion of the rice in an open field for the Viet Cong to retrieve as a tax, and thereby avoid Viet Cong reprisals. This report ultimately resulted in the 9th Marines Operation Golden Fleece to give protection to the villagers while they harvested the rice. This operation has continued into October due to the lateness of the start of the monsoon which brings seasonal rains to this area and marks the end of the Fall harvest. Reports during September have indicated that the Viet Cong have only collected ten per cent of their rice quota in this area.

Operation Golden Fleece (See Operations)

(4) Significant Events.

(e) Aerial photography was extensively utilized in operational planning to locate Viet Cong positions and prepared obstacles, to assist in terrain analysis, and to assess damage. Of especial note was the photo strips prepared by the III MAF API Section for use in planning operations in this TAOR. However, the current I/O for an infantry regiment does not provide imagery interpreters on the regimental and battalion levels, and the absence of such qualified personnel inhibited full utilization of this form of intelligence. Strip photos, while adequate, were not as readily usable as prepared mosaics. Hand held aerial photos provided by the Division Aerial Observation Section provided another useful source of visual intelligence.

Maintenance difficulties, especially the lack of repair parts, inhibited the full utilization of these devices. The situation was improved during the later portion of September, and the last fourteen days of the month reflected increased utilization. An additional problem was the shortage of trained operators, which was materially relieved by the establishment of a local training course for operators.

(6) Psychological Warfare.

(a) Psychological warfare operations were frequent and diverse during this reporting period. Among the psywar activities conducted were leaflet drops, poster and leaflet handouts, helicopter loudspeaker broadcasts, I Corps Psywar Detachment Audio Team presentations, HOA VIANG District Propaganda Section presentations, face to face persuasion by patrol leaders through interpreters, erection and maintenance of a bulletin board at the MIEU DONG (1), (BT 017678), check points and the emplacement of banners proclaiming Vietnamese-American friendship and cooperation at selected points along Highway 1 and 1A south of Danang.

A Viet Cong Battalion had been reported in this area preparing to lay mines. (See 9th Marines Situation Reports #63 and #64 for details of this operation.)

Under Operation RICE-STRAW the 9th Marines were to move south extending their control to the KI LAM River by 25 December 1965. The immediate objective, Phase Line Orange, was to be secured by 25 September 1965.

(1) Operation RICE-STRAW. (See the 9th Marines Operation Order 325-65, 051600H September 1965)

d. Operations.

(d) During September a discernable improvement in the extent of cooperation of the villagers with the Marines was noted. Their change was attributed in large measure to the continual presence of the Marines and the promise of greater security and stability. This indicates a degree of success from face to face persuasion during the patrols conducted during this period.

(e) The most significant of the psywar operations conducted were the helicopter loudspeaker broadcasts which immediately prior to the initiation of an operation, advised the inhabitants of a surrounded area to move to a designated civilian collection point in order to minimize casualties to the villagers and assist the friendly forces in their mission. Response in every case was significant with up to four hundred sixty-two villagers responding to instructions in one large hamlet area. In each instance villagers were screened by local authorities and provided with food, medical aid and temporary shelter for as long as they wished during the conduct of the operation.

The Viet Cong wanted the rice for their own use and wanted to deny it to the local governmental agencies in order to increase the problems with the refugees in this area.

disastrous floods of November 1964 ruined some of the food stocks of the Viet Cong and made it imperative they acquire this year's harvest. The Viet Cong obtain their rice by taxation, purchase, and by confiscating it. Intelligence reports early in the month of September indicated a discernable influx into the 9th Marines TAOR of Viet Cong regular forces as well as Viet Cong controlled and directed harvest workers. The increased number of contacts with enemy forces by Marine patrols early in September bore out the validity of these reports.

(c) On 8 September 1965, the Commanding Officer, 9th Marines, directed the forward two battalions to provide aid and security for the rice harvest within the 9th Marines TAOR. The 1st Battalion had already begun using patrols to aid the HOA HAI Village Chief in his harvest and called these Golden Fleece patrols. Golden Fleece was adopted as the Regimental Operation code name. Operation GOLDEN FLEECE was conducted as an additional mission to Operation RICE-STRAW.

(d) Patrols and ambushes were used extensively during September to protect harvesters in the fields. Amtracs were used to carry the rice to secure hamlets where Marines provided security for the common storage areas. When Viet Cong rice caches were located, combat patrols were dispatched to either recover the caches or to destroy them. A curfew was imposed on civilians in the area to prevent harvesting at night. When suspicious persons were observed working in the paddies, Marine patrols would clear the fields and the suspicious persons would be taken to the village chiefs to be identified.

(e) Operation GOLDEN FLEECE was considered a great success. Because of the late monsoon this year and the protection afforded by the Marines, the local government was able to harvest much more rice than usual, while it is believed the Viet Cong have only gathered ten percent of their quota for this area. Over fifty-five tons of rice were harvested in the 3d Battalion's zone by refugees from the HOA CAM Training Center working under HOA VANG District Headquarters. This area, which includes the CAM NE Complex (AT 990680), was usually not harvested because it was controlled by the Viet Cong before the Marines secured it. The total amount of rice harvested in the 1st Battalion's zone will not be known until the village chiefs make their reports to HOA VANG District Headquarters during the second week of October.

f. Fire Support and Fire Support Coordination.

(1) The Fire Support Coordination Centers at Regiment and Battalion levels operated in their normal capacity. Artillery and naval gunfire support was limited during this period due to the fact that control of fires within the 9th Marines TAOR is a combined consideration of the 3d Marine Division and I Corps. Harassing and interdicting fires were used extensively. Preparation fires were used in conjunction with helicopter assaults.

(2) Helicopters were used extensively during September for resupply, reconnaissance and heliborne assault missions.

h. Nuclear, Biological and Chemical Warfare.

(1) The use of chemical agents was restricted during September. The 3d Battalion employed a commercial type smoke generator to flush caves and tunnels during Operation MUSKRAT. Smokepot HC was the chemical agent used.

i. Training

(1) Training for the 9th Marines during September was limited by heavy operational commitments.

(2) For a summary of training accomplished see the following documents included with this report:

(a) The 1st Battalion Command Chronology for September.

(b) The 2d Battalion Command Chronology for September.

(c) The 3d Battalion Command Chronology for September.

j. Command and Control.

(1) The 9th Marines were under the command and control of the 3d Marine Division throughout September.

(2) Subordinate units under command and control of the 9th Marines were:

1st Battalion, 9th Marines	1-30 September
2d Battalion, 9th Marines	1-24 September
3d Battalion, 9th Marines	24-30 September
3d Battalion, 3d Marines	10-14 September

(3) The following units were under operational control of III MAF while the Airbase Defense Battalion:

2d Battalion, 9th Marines	24-30 September
3d Battalion, 9th Marines	1-24 September

(4) The following units were in direct support and under operational control of the 9th Marines:

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

Company B (-), 3d Tank Battalion	1-30 September
Company C (-), 3d AT Battalion	1-30 September
Company B (-), 1st Amtrac Battalion	1-30 September
Company A, 1st MT Battalion	1-30 September

(5) The 2d Battalion, 12th Marines, were in direct support of the 9th Marines during September.

k. Communications-Electronics.

(1) Satisfactory communications have been maintained throughout the September period with the exception of the platoon and squad levels where the AN/PRC-6 is employed. The AN/PRC-6 has proven to be extremely limited in dense foliage and has caused more reliance upon the AN/PRC-10. Frequent use has been made of the artillery conduct-of-fire net and the tank companies and anti-tank companies command nets as alternate means of infantry communications. At this point a trade off of AN/PRC-6's for AN/PRC-10's would be welcomed by the front line battalions.

(2) There are some aspects of the 9th Marines communications operations that depart slightly from present doctrine:

(a) Wire is used extensively between unit command posts versus radio relay. The terrain in most instances will support the use of the AN/TRC-27 radio relay equipment, but logistics problems have made this equipment take on a secondary role to wire.

(b) Radio relay has as yet to be completely exploited as few high frequency sets have been employed other than TAR and NGF circuits.

(3) No new equipment or techniques have been employed this period.

l. Logistics.

(1) No supply problems were encountered during September that effected the accomplishment of the 9th Marines mission. Problems were experienced in the resupply of batteries and parts to repair communications equipment and motor vehicles. There has been a shortage of tentage and lumber.

(2) Cantonment Program. Construction of the 9th Marines cantonment was scheduled to begin on 29 September 1965; but was delayed because of a shortage of lumber. However, with assistance from the Division Clubs Officer in obtaining materiel, personnel of the Headquarters Company constructed an enlisted club and a SNCO club that are now in operation. These clubs serve all the 9th Marines.

(3) Highlights.

(a) The displacement of the 1st Battalion CP from (BT 023723) to (BT 068715) was begun on 3 September and completed on 19 September. The Regimental S-4 assisted the 1st Battalion S-4. The move was made over the MSR using M35 trucks. A fork lift was provided by the 3d Marine Division at the request of the Regimental S-4. It was necessary to use barges provided by the 3d Engineer Battalion and two LCU's from the Naval Component Command because the bridge at (BT 038762) spanning the TOURANE River was being repaired. Coordination was made with the Division PMO prior to the displacement and no major traffic problems were caused in the city of DANANG. The 1st Battalion received priority over all other traffic moving across the river.

(b) On 10 September 1965, the 3d Battalion, 3d Marines, were lifted from CHU LAI to the DANANG Airbase by KC-130 aircraft and came under operational control of the 9th Marines for a five day period. From the airbase they were heli-lifted in CH-34's south of the MLR in the 2d Battalion's zone to positions in the vicinity of (AT 9661). The rapidity of movement and secrecy of planning precluded the coordination of logistical requirements prior to their arrival. The Regimental S-4 sent a liaison team to the LZ an hour after the lead elements of the battalion had landed and effected coordination on all logistics matters with the battalion commander and his S-4. On 12 September, the Regiment coordinated the heli-lift of two 4.2" mortars, twenty men, and 6.4 tons of ammunition to their positions. During the five day operation, all classes of supplies were provided by the 9th Marines and the resupply was coordinated by the Regimental S-4 and Air Liaison Officer. 35.5 tons of supplies were heli-lifted to the 3d Battalion. Every effort was made to replace Class II, Type 1, end items, through the Regimental communications section by giving them replacements, and then repairing the damaged equipment and then returning it to the unit, normally within fourteen hours. On 15 September the 3d Battalion, 3d Marines, returned to an assembly area at (AT 999698) where they were given fresh food and water. It took eight trucks one hour and a half to carry the battalion to the DANANG Airbase.

m. Medical and Dental Support.

(1) Routine medical and dental support has been available on a continuing basis from the 3d Medical Battalion. Helicopter evacuation of casualties directly to 3d Medical Battalion has eliminated the traditional function of the Battalion Aid Stations. The aid stations have functioned as dispensaries. There have been no medical problems which have effected the accomplishment of the 9th Marines mission.

(2) Preventive Medicine. There were no outbreaks of communicable diseases. No major sanitation problems were reported. All personnel of the 9th Marines are in a prophylactic immunization program.

(3) MedCap. The medical officers and hospital corpsmen operate aid stations for the civilian populace under the civil affairs program. The Majority of treatment is for ulcerations, skin disorders, dermatitis, lacerations, and vitamin deficiency. (See the Civil Affairs portion of this report for details).

n. Chaplain Support.

(1) The Regimental Chaplain's primary responsibility is providing religious and moral guidance to the men of this command. In addition, he offers his services to those commands in the area not having a chaplain attached. To this end he conducts Sunday worship services, evening prayers and weekly Bible study classes. He offers counsel to men with personal or marital problems.

Each of the three battalions of the 9th Marines has a chaplain attached. There are Protestant chaplains in the 1st and 3d Battalions, and there is a Catholic chaplain in the 2d Battalion. The Regimental Chaplain visits the three battalions on occasion, and supervises the religious coverage. When any unit is without Protestant coverage, the Regimental chaplain provides it.

(2) During September, the Regimental chaplain conducted nine worship services with a total attendance of two hundred sixteen. Memorial services were held for nine men.

The chaplain counseled twenty men who had serious problems.

(3) Funds. The chapel offering for September totaled $83.84. These funds were deposited in a central chapel fund from which the individual chaplain may draw for approved usage. During the month $100.00 was given from the fund to the Danang Orphanage, and $17.00 was expended for sandals for the children of BINH THAI Hamlet (BT 013720).

(4) Library. The Regimental chaplain maintains a book exchange for the men of the camp. About two hundred fifty books have been given outright, and there are about three hundred books on the shelf for exchange. Each evening a reading and writing tent is set up where books, magazines and writing paper is available for the men.

(5) The Regimental chaplain accompanies the medical staff when they conduct sick call in the BINH THAI Hamlet on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Approximately one hundred people are treated on each visit.

o. Civil Affairs. A detailed narrative summary of civil affairs for the month of September is enclosed as a document to this report. See also the 9th Marines S-1 Situation reports for September which are included with this report.

1. SUMMARY OF ENEMY SITUATION.

- a. Composition and Strength. Enemy strength in proximity of the area of operations is estimated to be approximately 1200, armed with rifles, automatic weapons including 18 LMGs, 6-10 81mm mortars, 12 60mm mortars, and 8 57mm Recoilless Rifles. Elements of three Viet Cong battalions have been identified; the 16th Battalion operating in the vicinity of coordinates (BT 0065); the 7th Battalion operating in the vicinity of coordinates (BT 0061), and a battalion (tentatively identified as the 23rd) operating in the vicinity of coordinates (AT 9665). In addition local force guerrilla units up to company strength (60-130) can be used to supplement and reinforce, as required. A fourth Viet Cong Battalion, identified as TA-27, and believed to be a Main Force unit is reported to be operating in the vicinity of coordinates (BT 0663). (This report lacks verification and additional information will be published as available).
- b. Recent and Present Activities. Viet Cong actions in the area have recently indicated an acceleration in the tempo of their operations with numerous small unit probes of front line and outpost positions, frequent sniper activity, and several ambushes of patrols. In addition, there has been a marked increase in the use of mines and booby-traps, with several reports of bold placement of mines and booby-traps within areas generally considered under our control and constant scrutiny. There has been an increase in Viet Cong psywar operations, with emphasis on subversion in the rural areas and terrorist activities against local government officials. There have been frequent reports of Viet Cong propaganda teams, usually armed, visiting hamlets and isolated communities in the area, conducting propaganda meetings and distributing subversive material. Propaganda leaflets (printed and handwritten), in English and addressed to U.S. Forces, have recently made an appearance in this locality.

Time Zone: H

1. General. The area of this operation extends from the line of our present positions (generally forward of the SONG CAU DO) to a line extending from the vicinity of the AN TRACH hamlet complex on the west coordinates (AT 960658), along the trail running generally due east across National Highway #1 to the SONG VINH DIEN, continuing in a south-easterly direction along the trace of the SONG VINH DIEN to the junction with the SONG THANH QUIT, and continuing generally east to the coast in the vicinity of HA QUANG (4) hamlet, coordinates (AT 102669). The SONG YEN delineates the western boundary and the South China Sea provides the eastern boundary. National Route #1 parallels the coast about 4 miles inland and connects the major population centers.
2. Weather. (For period 5 through 30 September 1965).
 - a. Temperature

Mean maximum - 88 degrees
 Mean minimum - 75 degrees
 Daily average - 82 degrees
 - b. Winds

Nighttime: Northerly, 9 knots. (Mean speed - 4 knots).
 Daytime : (Same as above).
 - c. Cloud cover

Nighttime - Buildup of Cumulus clouds varying with occurrences of showers and thundershowers.
 Daytime - Early morning patches of dense stratus with Cumulus clouds becoming more numerous until the sky is almost covered with clouds by 1300 LST or shortly thereafter.
 - d. Visibility

Less than 5 miles - 3.4%
 Less than 1 mile - 0.3%

SECRETe. Precipitation

Primarily in the form of showers and thundershowers, occurring most often during the afternoon and early evening. Rainfall for the period:

Maximum - 46.3 inches
 Minimum - 3.0 inches
 Mean - 15.7 inches

3. Terrain. The area of operations is a low, flat plain largely devoted to wet rice paddies. Trafficability is difficult to impossible in much of this area for all vehicles. The terrain near the shore is generally unfavorable for off-road movement due to extensive sand dunes. Vegetation in the area of operation includes localities consisting of sparse, cultivated fields which do not hamper observation or movement, and other areas, usually surrounding hamlets and/or villages, where dense foliage restricts observation and movement. Many of the sandy areas near the beaches contain numerous dome-shaped graves and swelling dunes which provide covered and partially concealed routes of approach in areas which are generally devoid of foliage and open in appearance.
4. Roads. Route #1, a main hard-surfaced road, traverses the area of operation generally from north to south about four miles inland. There are few secondary roads in the area, and the trails are generally unsuited for other than 1/4 ton combat vehicles. (Trafficability studies to be issued).
5. Politics, Sociology, and Economics. The area of operations is situated in HOA VANG district of QUANG NAM province. Within this district are several cantons, which, in turn, are each composed of several villages. The villages are made up of hamlets, which may be from a hundred yards to several miles apart. To the majority of the Vietnamese in this area, "the government" is the administrative group which runs his village. The village government is administered by a council who elect their president to act as village representative in dealings with superior government authorities. Family and village life is strongly centered on Buddhism/Animism although a substantial portion of the populace are Catholics. The inhabitants of the area of operations are predominately ethnic Vietnamese. The economy of the area rests on an agricultural base, with about 90% of the population involved in agricultural pursuits.

11. Late Entries

a. 1st Battalion. At 011200H small arms fire was received by Company "D"'s CP at (BT 068713). Fire was coming from NUNG's chasing Vietnamese wood choppers and firing over woodchoppers heads into Company "D"'s CP. Woodchoppers and NUNG's crossed highway and appeared to be rushing Company "D"'s CP (BT 068713). The NUNG's, not being in uniform, Company "D" was unable to identify the group. Company "D" returned fire killing three woodchoppers and wounding one NUNG in the leg. The NUNG shot in the leg was cared for and returned to NUNG CP. The NUNG OIC expressed regret and chatised the NUNG's for crossing the road. An investigation was instituted. At 011345H the 3d platoon of Company "A" received 15 rounds of small arms sniper fire at (BT 075678). Fire was returned with small arms fire. One VCS was captured. One Marine was wounded in the leg. The wound was not serious enough to require evacuation.

12. At 311630H, the battalion S-2 reported that the chief of HOA HAI Village contacted the battalion S-2 to report that comments of the villagers indicated thirty or more VC were killed during the search and destroy operation conducted 29 August in the Marble Mountain area. The village chief stated that the operation resulted in pro-government sentiments among the villagers and evident confidence in the ability of USMC forces to provide future security in the area. The report added that the village chief requested that the battalion provide security for the villagers when they harvest the rice crop beginning ten days hence, so as to deny the rice to the VC. The village chief stated that the practice in the past was for the villagers to place a portion of their crop in an open field for the VC to retrieve as a tax and therefore avoid VC reprisals. Regardless of the accuracy of the reported thirty VC KIA's - which is not an improbable total for the operation referred to - the fact that the village chief accepts this figure is in itself, important. HOA HAI Village has a population of over 3000, and has been considered VC controlled territory. If the villagers are now willing to risk possible VC reprisals by refusing to pay the usual rice tax, it would indicate a confidence and firmness heretofore lacking in this locality.

4. Activitiesa. Operations

(1) 1st Battalion. The 1st Battalion continues to occupy positions south of the Danang Airbase and south of the CAU DO River. At 161400H, Company "C" (Rein) began an operation to locate and destroy mines that have been reported in TRA KHE (2), (BT 075680). Operation Golden Fleece is continuing. Companies "C" and "D" are now employing war dog teams on patrols and operations.

(a) Company "A" (-) now located at (BT 067714), is responsible for the Battalion security. The 1st platoon, now located at (BT 023733), is responsible for the patrolling and security of the Battalion TAOR north of the CAU DO River.

(b) Company "B", located in the vicinity of TRA KHE (1), (BT 088672), has been patrolling in an area generally east of grid line (B06) and north of grid line (T66).

(c) At 151920H 1st platoon, Company "C", reported receiving fifteen rounds of small arms fire and three rounds of what was possibly 60mm mortar fire from (BT 042704). The small arms fire was thought to have come from three or four positions. Fire was returned silencing the enemy fire. At 160900H the Redwood Charlie 16A patrol reported receiving small arms fire from the vicinity of (BT 057711). The patrol returned fire and the VC broke contact. The Company is now employing a war dog team on its patrols and operations. The use of these teams is of great benefit. As a result of information received today at 161000H it was planned that the 1st platoon, Company "C", reinforced with an Engineer team, two EWTP-5's, two Ontos and the 3d platoon of Company "B" would conduct a search and destroy mission in TRA KHE (2), (BT 075680) to locate and destroy mines reported to be stored in that area. At approximately 161500H an Amtrac struck a mine at (BT 065670) and one KIA and three WIA were sustained. Because of this, it was decided to postpone the mission until tomorrow when mine clearing teams could be employed to better advantage. Original intelligence information indicated the mines had not been laid because the villagers had asked the VC not to lay them during the harvest. This now appears not to be the case.

(d) Company "D". The company presently occupies defensive positions in the vicinity of KHAM TAY (3), (BT 048667) and TU CAU (1), (BT 036667). The company is conducting Golden Fleece Operations in the rice paddies in the vicinity of the CP. Company "D" is now employing a war dog team.

At 160325H the Echo Alpha 1 ambush returned with one VCS. The VCS was apprehended in the vicinity of (BT 009673) and was delivered to IIT this morning.

(b) Company "F" continues to provide security for the FLSG ammunition dump (AT 988733) with two platoons. One platoon (-) remains in YEN NE (2), (AT 986684) and one squad remains at the 2d Battalion's medical station in CAM NE (2), (AT 980687) for security. Two war dog teams are being utilized by Company "F" patrols in the CAM NE Complex (AT 990690).

(c) Company "G" continues to occupy front line positions from (AT 959658) to (AT 972655). One platoon is located in the vicinity of (AT 967661). A river check point is established at (AT 959658).

(d) Company "H" continues to occupy front line positions. The 1st platoon occupies positions in YEN NE (1), (AT 987664), the 2d platoon in the vicinity of (AT 982658). At 151820H the 2d platoon received sniper fire from south of LE SON (2), (AT 979650). The platoon spotted six VC who got up and ran to LE SON (3), (AT 976647) when the 2d platoon moved out in pursuit. The 2d platoon pursued the VC to LE SON (3), but the VC ran south to THAI CAM (1), (AT 977643), and the platoon did not pursue further. The 2d platoon apprehended one VCS in LE SON (3), (AT 976647) wearing civilian clothing with black pajamas underneath. The 2d platoon then returned to its previous position. At 152130H they received an additional twenty-five rounds of harassing fire from (AT 975650). There were no USMC casualties. At 152220H the 3d platoon suspected movement forward of their positions and requested illumination over the area. The illumination was received and on target, but nothing could be seen.

With six additional tanks, the patrol returned to the vicinity of (BT 065632). The FO called an artillery fire mission on a bunker, containing the 57 mm RR and five armed VC. The mission was on target and destroyed the bunker. A secondary explosion was observed. The bunker was believed to be an ammunition dump.

(a) Company "I" continues to occupy positions from (BT 031656) to (BT 016655). Company "I" mans a check point on Highway 1 in MIEU DONG at (BT 017678). Yesterday, the check point confiscated twenty pounds of rice and twenty-five gallons of fuel oil. Seven VCS were apprehended. The VCS and contraband were turned over to Hoa Vang District Headquarters.

(b) Company "K" continues to occupy positions from (AT 973655) to (BT 005658). At 270600H one Marine was found dead at (AT 992664). He was apparently killed by a booby-trap, possibly a grenade. It is believed he was killed at 270410H, at which time an artillery mission was being fired. The man was first missed at 270410H and a search was begun. He was not found until daylight.

(c) Company "L" continues to provide security for the FLSG ammunition dump (AT 988733) with two platoons. The 3d platoon (-) remains at YEN NE (3), (AT 985682), as Battalion CP security and one squad remains at CAM NE (2), (AT 982687) for security. One squad (rein) provides security for the railroad bridge and water point (AT 998707). At 262115H, the 2d squad, 3d platoon, which is at the school house in CAM NE (2), (AT 980687) received fire from their west. The VC fired about 150 rounds from automatic weapons. The fire was returned and one VC was wounded. An attempt by several Marines to recover the VC body failed when they were taken under heavy fire. 81mm mortars were used to illuminate the area. The squad observed the enemy drag the VC body away. There were no Marine casualties. From 262240H to 262315H the school house at (AT 981687) was again taken under fire by automatic and semi-automatic fire from the north east, north and north west. Approximately 400 rounds were fired by the VC. One brick building from which a VC was firing was destroyed by a 3.5" rocket and the VC was presumably killed. A VC detonated a claymore mine and was knocked into a hole. The grenadier fired two 40mm grenades into the hole probably killing the VC. One Marine was slightly wounded by bullet debris.
